

"Unclear"

Always inside me there is a riot with my own
I cannot hide this, many times I feel alone
I keep a distance from myself, my confidence is broken
Since I know you I need help, this love can't be my hope and Mindless communication, in my head there seems to be
An emptiness, I must confess, the result of my philosophy
More and more I fall apart from all the things I should have done
The scars that you have made to me may never heal
Reality

Chorus:

You're far away, you were so near
My only wish's that you were here
Everything is so unclear
I don't know if I can endure
I'm lost in you and that's for sure
My only wish's that you were here
Unclear

Though I can't understand why you've made me crying for a while
I still need you, I still love you but I die
Can you tell me what it is that keeps me thinking of you
You have brought me to my knees, I hope I can forget this
Can you tell me what it is that keeps me thinking of you
